Confront challenge, create change.

Our students are informed by numbers, driven by principle. We challenge them to look beyond the bottom line and carefully consider what will make the biggest impact and do the most good.

The CEL leadership team partners with you to define key issues and set project direction and timeline. Project areas are comprehensive and range from high-level strategy to detailed, in-depth analysis in specific areas. The faculty-supervised student consulting teams are assembled based on an organization's specific needs.

“

It was great working with the students to receive fresh perspectives on ideas we had not considered. I am looking forward to implementing some of their recommendations as we consider our 3 year growth strategy”
