Flex MBA

A Modern MBA for Working Professionals

As the business world evolves, so must the MBA. The Flex MBA takes a decidedly contemporary approach to learning, starting with options to take courses online or on campus. As you learn core MBA fundamentals, you also examine modern technology and its growing impact on business—and our world.

The curriculum is built on WashU Olin's Values Based, Data Driven™ approach to leadership. You'll be transformed into an advanced leader ready for the challenges of tomorrow.

A Traditional MBA with an Eye on Tomorrow

Core MBA principles form the foundation of the 27-month Flex MBA program. In addition to accounting, finance, marketing, microeconomics, strategy and operations, you also develop Values Based, Data Driven™ decision-making and business analytics skills.

Core and elective courses are viewed through a contemporary lens to give you a forward-leaning perspective on business theory and practice.

In both Flex MBA formats—on campus and online—pre-recorded content is mixed with live class sessions that focus on discussions and group interaction. An emphasis is placed on dynamic and interactive learning, including:

- Live cases use recent examples of companies managing contemporary issues.
- Sector deep dives are tailored to your interests.
- Experiential exercises like simulations, role-playing, and peer-to-peer or group work promote collaborative, hands-on learning.
