Full-time MBA program soars to 19th in the world. And two alums join forces in a sweet business deal.

Olin MBA soars into global top 20
WashU’s full-time MBA program jumped up 22 spots to rank 19th in the world, 15th in the United States, in The Economist’s 2022 “Which MBA?” ranking.

A sweet partnership
You might say this partnership is just the bee’s knees. Two Olin alums have joined forces thanks to a common ingredient between their two products: honey.

Olin grads praise St. Louis in Business Journal
Access to funders and a readily accessible network of customers, mentors and advisers made the city an attractive startup location for entrepreneurs Andrew Glantz, BSBA ’17, and Marc Bernstein, BSBA ’15.

Wednesdays with WashU
This webinar series features alumni and parents from around the world. Check out the one featuring Ron Shaich, managing partner and CEO of Act III Holdings and founder and former chairman and CEO of Panera Bread. Professor Doug Vilhard, academic director for entrepreneurship, serves as host.

Featured content for July

As an alumnus, you have access to videos, articles, mini-cases and webinars to support your continued personal and professional growth.

Recent content includes a webinar covering the topic of access to credit and how it is essential to the success of a firm’s operations. Yet credit markets are plagued with financial frictions that inhibit businesses’ ability to borrow. Tune in to listen to Olin’s Associate Professor of Finance Brett Green discuss his research.
