How to roll with the punches in business, to build trust as a leader and to succeed in tech.

How to take a punch
Olin alum David Karandish’s Answers.com was a whopping success, but he was on the ropes just a few months in.

Celebrating scholars
Since 1979, Olin’s Scholars in Business program has supported more than 6,000 students. Join us as we celebrate the current cohort—and those whose gifts made their success possible. This virtual event is November 4 at 6 p.m.
‘It all started at WashU’
Family’s $1 million pledge recognizes Olin’s role in the life of distinguished graduate Ja Song, MBA ’62.

Prime time
Amazon features Olin alum Rovina Valashiya, a principal product manager, in a fun Career Day video.

Reality bytes
What’s the secret for women to succeed in tech-related business? Hear what Lisa Nichols, CEO of Technology Partners, has to say.

Building trust
Some leaders may start with low levels of trust, but new research shows they can quickly build it.
WashU CNX

The WashU Alumni Association recently launched WashU CNX, a new online networking platform for alumni. You can search for alumni who have common interests, participate in one-on-one and group discussions and build connections with alumni from around the world. Join now by clicking here.

Events

14 OCT
“Virtual Networking: Start-ups and Entrepreneurship”

20 OCT
“Virtual Career Boot Camp: Leveraging Social Media”

26 OCT
“Leadership Perspectives: Start me up?”

27 OCT
“Century Club Speaker Series: Dean Mark Taylor”
Find regional events in your area

“Power Lunch & Learn Series: SMP Global Roundtable”

“Data+Design: Striking the Balance Between Continuity and Change”

“The New Economy Beyond COVID”

“Leadership Perspectives: Stronger together.”

Know someone who would be ideal for one of Olin Business School's programs? Click here to refer a candidate so we can follow up. Or if you're interested in continuing your business education, let us know.

Refer a Candidate

Thoughts, comments, questions? Email Olin.