

Partner with WashU Olin

Be a part of building exceptional student experiences.

Partnership is more than just a word at WashU Olin Business School. It's a philosophy and a passion. We engage with organizations of all kinds to enhance experiential educational opportunities and research output while also adding value for those partners.

Ways We Can Work Together

WashU Olin works with businesses, startups, nonprofits and NGOs on a wide variety of projects and initiatives—from consulting to research to talent development and more. We're eager to start a conversation about ways to work together that provide value to our school and your organization.

Student Consulting

Our talented students bring fresh thinking and innovative solutions to solve your organization's challenges.

Talent Investing

Build better leaders with degree programs for working professionals and nondegree courses and certificates.

Knowledge Sharing

We invite you to share your knowledge and experience with our students to enhance their business education.

Faculty Advising

You can access thought leadership and collaborate with faculty through research centers and individually.

Tap into Talented Students

Through our Values Based, Data Driven™ approach, we equip students to be adroit and principled leaders. Our curriculum is informed by key global priorities and teaches students to bring an entrepreneurial spirit to every endeavor—whether their desired career path leads to a Fortune 500, startup or nonprofit. When you engage with our students, you benefit from their insights, support their academic development and impact their futures.

Building Our Relationship

What type of help fits your needs? Developing your own rising talent? Tapping into students to solve business challenges? Connecting with our world-class faculty? It all starts with listening—we want to get to know you, your organization and your needs. From there, we'll work together to determine the best ways to partner that benefit us both.

Let's start a conversation about ways we can partner to create valuable connections to ensure a more productive pursuit of the future.
