MAKE YOUR MOVE
with an MBA from top-ranked Washington University in St. Louis.

Leverage your military leadership experience into business career opportunities.

TUITION BENEFITS
Washington University is a full partner in the Yellow Ribbon Post-9/11 G.I. Bill benefit. If the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs determines you are Yellow Ribbon eligible, Washington University and the VA will work to cover 100% of tuition. You may qualify for scholarship awards in addition to your G.I. Bill benefits. Indicate your U.S. military service on your MBA application, and you’ll be considered automatically for scholarships.
Why an MBA from Olin Business School?

Success in the private sector means analyzing problems, making tough decisions, and clearly communicating to achieve an objective—all skills you acquired during your military service. A business education rounds out that skill set and prepares you for any number of new career directions.

Distinguished by its academic excellence, engaged faculty, and emphasis on critical and independent thinking, Olin’s two-year full-time program builds your analytical, leadership, and cross-functional business skills. Five comprehensive career platforms help you find your career path and align your course work, professional development, networking opportunities, and extracurricular activities for maximum impact in the job market.

About Washington University in St. Louis

- Among the world’s leaders in teaching and research; draws students and faculty to St. Louis from all 50 states and more than 120 nations
- Offers more than 90 programs and 1,500 courses with schools of arts and sciences, architecture, business, engineering, law, medicine, and social work
- Has played an integral role in the history and continuing growth of St. Louis and benefits in turn from the wide array of social, cultural, and recreational opportunities offered by the metropolitan area
- Encompasses more than 2,300 acres and more than 150 major buildings on five campuses throughout St. Louis
- Pursues a mission of discovering and disseminating knowledge and protecting the freedom of inquiry through research, teaching, and learning

About St. Louis

St. Louis is consistently ranked among the nation’s most affordable and best places to live and raise families. St. Louis is a national hub for important research and business development, especially in the fields of biotechnology and plant science. The city also boasts a thriving entrepreneurial community, with strong sectors in financial services, engineering, and technology. The St. Louis region offers many opportunities to watch or participate in a wide range of sports, recreational activities, and cultural events.

Charlie Felker, MBA 2013
Associate, Strategy and Corporate Development, HBM Holdings, St. Louis

Prior to attending Olin, Charlie was an infantry officer in the United States Army, serving with both the 82nd Airborne Division and 3rd Ranger Battalion. He is a graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point.

“The Weston Career Center, faculty, and staff helped me harness my leadership skills and experience for a successful business career. They understand the experiences of veterans, and provide the services and support needed to assist in what can be a difficult lifestyle change.”

“The biggest values for veterans in getting an MBA are building business acumen and learning to communicate with corporate employers. An Olin MBA provides both.”

MAKE YOUR MOVE

Olin is proud to offer premier business education for full-time students and working professionals. To discuss making your move to the business world, please contact Kevin Crimmins, associate director of MBA admissions, by phone, at 888-622-5115, or email, at military@olin.wustl.edu. www.olin.wustl.edu/militaryMBA